

I listen to and have been a financial supporter of K-LOVE radio for more than four years. It is a wonderful station, and as there are so few stations that play the contemporary Christian music that I love, I would sorely miss it. Stations that do not have commercials are so refreshing, and this one really reaches out to the members of their listening public. It is so great to know that I and my son and his family in South Carolina can listen to the same station. Please don't take away this great FM translator service radio station.
